Feedback from our very popular volunteer workshops always mentions that you would like more time to talk to each other. You are such wonderful, fascinating and varied people that it is a shame not to get to know each other better. We have taken this on board and designed our next workshop as a forum to discuss your questions, concerns, experiences and successes in a structured framework led by former primary school teacher and education lecturer Gillian Holland. There will be plenty of time for chatting too and a chance to pick up stickers and bookmarks.

It's Time To Have Your Say

Book Festival Fun

What an exciting couple of days we had at the inaugural Norwich Book Festival in October. The Norfolk Reading Project had a prominent stall laden with phonics books and games. We met hundreds of people of many nationalities, engaged in engrossing conversations and even gained some new volunteers. Children enjoyed our phonics games and parents took home lots of phonics information and ideas to use at home.

Big Thanks

Norwich Businesswomen's Network kindly made us their charity of the year. Very generously, last month, they handed us a cheque for £7,200. We are extremely grateful for their amazing support over the past 10 years.

Appeal for Skills

Our committee would very much like to recruit new members with expertise in IT or law. If you think you would like to join us, do get in touch. Please email info@thenorfolkreadingproject.co.uk

Next Training Dates

Next dates at Town Close School are: February 8th, March 15th and April 26th. A very warm welcome to all the January trainees. Thank you for volunteering with us.
